

REALISTIC SYSTEMS FOR HARD WEEKS

Home Organization for Busy Seasons

Some seasons do not have room for a system overhaul. These are the things that hold when there is no spare capacity at all.

THE THREE THAT HOLD EVERYTHING

- One reset of the main room each night
- Nothing goes upstairs without a reason to go up
- Laundry finishes, including put away, or it does not start

LOWER THE BAR DELIBERATELY

- Made bed means covers pulled up
- Clean kitchen means counters clear, not spotless
- Dinner from the freezer is dinner

MOVE LOAD OFF YOURSELF

- Standing grocery order for the repeats
- Anything a child can do, a child does
- Whoever is home first starts the reset
- Ask specifically, not generally

WHAT TO LET GO OF, WITHOUT GUILT

- Seasonal decorating
- Anything for people who are not coming over
- Sorting that can wait for a calmer month
- Comparison with houses in a different season

YOUR THREE

Name the three that stay non-negotiable this season. Everything else is optional.

We build these systems for you.

Most people know which area is weakest. What they lack is the two uninterrupted weeks it takes to fix it. That is the part we do: we build it, document it in English and Spanish, train the people who use it, and stay on to adjust it.

Book a consultation at sortandplace.com