THE ORGANIZING LAYER, NOT THE HALACHIC ONE

PESACH ORGANIZATION CHECKLIST

This covers the organizing work only: sequence, storage, labeling and logistics. Every halachic question, what requires kashering, what may be sold, what must be removed, is your Rav's to answer and his answer governs. Nothing here is a ruling.

SIX WEEKS OUT

- [ ] Decide which rooms are in scope and write the list down
- [ ] Order what you know you need before the shelves empty
- [ ] Book any help early, availability goes first
- [ ] Photograph cabinets before you empty them, for putting back

STORAGE AND LABELING

- [ ] One labeled place for what is put away
- [ ] Label in every language spoken in the house
- [ ] Seal and mark clearly, so nothing is opened by mistake
- [ ] Keep the sold or stored inventory written down, not remembered

ROOM BY ROOM, IN ORDER

- [ ] Bedrooms and playrooms first, they hold the surprises
- [ ] Car, bags, coat pockets
- [ ] Kitchen last and slowest, it needs the most time
- [ ] Do not start the kitchen until everything else is done

THE KITCHEN, LOGISTICS ONLY

- [ ] Empty fully before anything else begins
- [ ] Surfaces covered per your practice
- [ ] Separate sets stored and labeled clearly
- [ ] Anything ambiguous goes in one box for your Rav, not a guess

THE WEEK ITSELF

- [ ] Menus written and shopped before the last days
- [ ] Staff instructions written, in their language, before they are needed
- [ ] One person owns the sequence, everyone else follows it
- [ ] A written list beats four people remembering differently

YOUR RAV'S RULINGS

Write the answers here as you get them, so nobody has to ask twice or guess later.

SORT + PLACE

We handle the organizing layer: the sequence, the labeling, the storage, and the written instructions your staff can follow. Halachic questions stay with your Rav, where they belong.
